

Deb Armelino (AEA,SAG), a versatile actress, singer and entertainer, has an extensive resume that includes musical theatre roles, revues in the Catskills, plays and classical theatre work since she started her professional life at the age of 14 in summer stock.

Her most recent credit was playing Grandma Moskowitz in David Goldyn's Daddy Issues Off Broadway at St. Clement's. A cum laude graduate of Catholic University in DC and Richmond College, London, Deb is a long standing member of American Renaissance Theater Company, NYC who prides herself on being a character actress. In WinterWorks 2016 she played Yelena in Bill Cosgriff's Vanya Goes Vegas. Deb also performed as Mrs. Zero in Adding Machine by Fran Handman, among many other roles with the group. She is also an award winning cabaret performer (Backstage Bistro Bits winner for "Legendary Ladies" – an act of songs and celebrity impressions). Deb enjoys writing short plays and has had a few of them done at the Sam French Festival in NYC. Deb received the first Robert Elston Award for Service to ARTC in 2016 and has served as the Membership Director for actors for ARTC since the Roosevelt Administration.